

Conversation starters

Sometimes when you are in a different or new environment, your brain can have to work pretty hard to think of conversation starters. Create a list about things you are interested to talk about or to be able to learn more about (hobbies you enjoy, favourite animal, family at home or even your favourite book, game or tv programme); taking off the pressure when sparking up a new conversation is more brain space to learn new things!

My fantastic list of conversation starters...

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

And more!